Is Your Hyper-growth Disrupting your Hyperscale?

With Speed, Scale, and Proven Success, CyrusOne Enables Your Hyperscale Market Advantage for Accelerated Financial Impact

Hyperscale leaders currently face opportunities with no historical comparisons. But the challenges to scale to reap those vast rewards are just as daunting.

CyrusOne's ability to execute on fast-growing webscale data centers provides you with faster recognition of production revenue. Serving nine of the top 10 cloud providers, CyrusOne has learned how to give our hyperscale customers every advantage in a highly competitive environment.

Your Speed-to-Market Advantage

Revenue Faster

With velocity unmatched in the data center industry, CyrusOne regularly delivers major data centers from the ground up within six months with use of:

- Repeatable modular designs in multiple 9MW blocks

- A robust and mature construction supply chain

- Removal of unneeded complexities in electrical and mechanical components, driving down utility costs and reducing risk

- Large land tracts for multiple buildings on a single campus, avoiding preventable delays in zoning, utilities, and access capabilities while improving speed to market for access to capacity

Innovation Advantage

Effective strategies to drive performance, lower costs, and improve your operational efficiencies.

- CyrusOne pioneered dense computing and liquid cooling data centers and has customers operating at densities over over 1000kw per square foot.

- Multiple design options provide flexibility for changing resiliency requirements.

- Waterless mechanical design reduces construction timelines, enhances sustainability, and addresses municipality concerns.

- CyrusOne is leading transformation in connectivity with heavy investment in current and future onramp mechanisms to the cloud.

- Let's collaborate. We'll entertain, design and test concepts that others won't.
